

RIVER VALLEY CHILD DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Identification Badges -- Practice

Effective: August 30, 2013

River Valley Child Development Services, hereinafter referred to as RVCDS, requires all provisional and regular employees to have a photo identification badge and to have that identification badge with them at all times while working for RVCDS.

Employees who are routinely in contact with the public (child development centers, food program, and resource and referral programs, etc.) are asked to wear their badges during the course of conducting business.

Employees working outside the main office representing RVCDS during the course of their jobs are asked to wear their badges.
